10th Anniversary of PAJR

The Pan Arab Journal of Rhinology (PAJR) has been regularly issued biannually for the past 10 years, being the official journal of the Pan Arab Rhinology Society (PARS). We are all celebrating happily the 10th anniversary of the PAJR.

The PAJR is an online and open access journal, accordingly easily seen, read, and cited. It is double blind, peer reviewed, and is issued twice yearly. It is well distributed and appreciated all over the world.

The PAJR has the privilege of being the only subspecialized regional rhinology journal in the Arab Countries and Middle East. Original articles, review articles, meta-analysis, and case reports are allowed to be submitted at the PAJR. We consider articles discussing inflammation, infection, allergy, congenital diseases, trauma, and tumors of the nose and paranasal sinuses for submission. All related other specialties are also well appreciated, including radiology, pathology, oncology, pediatrics, internal medicine, and pulmonology. The PAJR covers all fields of rhinology including open and endoscopic surgery, snoring and OSA, rhinoplasty, maxillofacial, allergy, smell, and pharmacotherapy.

Such big achievements of the PAJR are the result of the sincere and hard work of the whole editorial team and rhinology colleagues in Egypt, Arab counties, Middle East, and all over the world.
